

SOLIDARITY OF RADICALISM

WIDESPREAD FERRER OUT-BREAK DEMANDS MUCH STUDY.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 16.—That the execution of a revolutionary leader in Spain has caused the worst riots in Paris since the Commune, the general strike in Rome, demonstrations in numerous cities in many countries and an extraordinary outburst of feeling even in South America is a social phenomenon demanding more than passing attention. There has been no rioting in Spain itself by way of a public demonstration beyond the usual daily bomb explosion at Barcelona, but this apparent calm may be altogether deceptive. America also, according to news reports, has taken almost no interest in the fate of Francisco Ferrer.

A partial explanation of this international psychic mystery lies in the fact that the almost periodic outbreak of mob spirit in Paris was due. It wanted only an excuse for letting itself loose. The demonstration in Rome was less spontaneous; the occasion was simply seized by the Socialist leaders there and elsewhere to record the international solidarity of the radical cause, and they certainly succeeded in making in the aggregate a formidable showing.

It is the first time in Europe that an anarchist has gained a considerable amount of public sympathy. Spain made a bad tactical blunder in shooting Ferrer. It is not true that his trial was private. There were present 200 reporters and 250 spectators, but the proceedings fell far short of Anglo-Saxon ideas of judicial procedure.

No witnesses were called, but the prosecution made free use of what may be described as affidavits. These applied not only to the specific charge of inciting the Barcelona riots but covered events in Ferrer's life extending back for several years. The judges really took up the problem of deciding whether Ferrer was a good or bad man. Having decided that he was bad they condemned him to death.

THE POPE ALARMED.
This travesty of justice in the present crisis of Spain's political fate was worse than folly, and it will bring far-reaching consequences. Even the Pope forewarned the danger involved to the Church and endeavored to intervene, but unsuccessfully.

The position of the Church has been rapidly growing precarious for several years past, and responsibility for the present blunder will be laid solely on the Clerical party. The first blow in revenge will fall unhappily upon the young King. If the indignity of the combined anarchist clique of Europe can compass his destruction his life-to-day is in greater danger than that of the Czar. The leaders of the domestic and foreign anarchists declare openly their determination to kill him at the earliest possible moment. Valluna, the leader of the Spanish anarchists, who was banished six years ago, said to THE SUN correspondent to-day:

"Ferrer's death will be avenged on Alfonso personally. We hold him responsible, although he is only the tool of the Spanish priesthood. Ferrer was an educationalist. He founded 100 schools for scientific education in Catalonia. This incited the enmity of the priesthood, and Alfonso gave them their revenge."

"Spaniards will never forgive him, and he is simply waiting our opportunity. The men and means are ready. The Queen has nothing to fear from us. I give the monarchy in Spain one more year of life. Then we will have a republic."

CRISIS IN BRITISH POLITICS.
British politics are going to be interesting, even to an outsider, for the next few weeks. It is not possible to announce with any confidence what form the developments will take, but it is sure they will be unprecedented. The wise expedient of a referendum on the budget probably will not be adopted, although no sound reason against it has been forthcoming.

The latest report is that the Government intends to revive a procedure which has been in desuetude for more than two centuries, and to move in the House of Commons "a grand remonstrance to the King against the House of Lords" if the King rejects the budget.

The courses will be open to the King. He may either dissolve Parliament or merely acknowledge the receipt of the remonstrance. Dissolution would follow in any event.

Much depends, no doubt, on the result of the Bernadotte by-election. This typical London constituency is now Liberal, but is more than likely to go Conservative, and such a result would preface a Government defeat in a general election. It requires only one or two more reckless socialist speeches such as Chancellor Lloyd-George made at Newcastle a week ago to make such an event a certainty.

A VERY MAD WORLD.
The great increase in the number of lunatics in London asylums is puzzling the officials. Another disquieting fact is that fewer patients have been discharged cured this year than for the six preceding years. The chairman in a report says:

"The prevention of propagation by feeble minded persons seems to be the chief way to decrease the national mental defect, and the question of the suitability for marriage is one on which differences of opinion between natural and official guardians is likely to become acute. Wholesale restraint for the feeble minded of marriageable age may be alarming, but it appears to be an inevitable necessity."

VICTORY FOR AUTO TRAPS.
The police after a long fight have beaten the Automobile Association in the contest over motor traps. When the authorities located one of these traps, which consisted of a measured distance with policemen ambushed to catch speeders, the association posted bicycle scouts in the neighborhood to warn drivers. This was held not to violate the law.

The Court of Appeal has now declared, however, that the scouts' plea that they were really assisting the police in preventing the law from being broken is invalid. It holds that the scouts obstructed the police in the execution of their duty by signalling, thus preventing them from getting the necessary corroboration of a violation of the speed limit before the trap was reached.

there will be a considerable shortage of fine wines. This year will be the third consecutive year of poor vintage. Eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, 1899, 1900, 1904 and 1908 were good years, but the failures of recent vintages are likely to be felt owing to the tendency on the part of a section of the champagne drinking public to prefer the newer wine. It is difficult to understand the reason for the tendency. Perhaps the keener and fresher taste of the newer wines appeals to palates that have grown a little jaded.

SEEKING DAVID'S TOMB.
Interesting excavations are proceeding at Jerusalem under the supervision of Capt. Montgomery B. Parker, brother of the Earl of Morley, by Messrs. Wilson and Duff and the Hon. Cyril Ward, with two Turkish officials on behalf of the Turkish Government, which has granted extraordinary rights.

On the site of the slope above the Virgin's Fountain, at the south end of the Ophel quarry, where stood the City of David, a hitherto unknown tunnel has been discovered. Two deep shafts were sunk. It is hoped to find the tombs of David and the Kings of Judah. Biblical scholars at Jerusalem are confident of success and that there will be unearthed not only the tombs but the sacred furniture and vessels of the successive temples built by Solomon and Zerubbabel.

The electric treatment for skin diseases, first introduced by Prof. Leduc of Paris in 1903, has now emerged from the experimental stages and is extensively used at Bartholomew's Hospital, London. The treatment consists in passing an electric current through the diseased part, one of the electrodes being a covered pad soaked with a solution containing a drug or chemical. The electricity breaks up the solution into ions, which penetrate the tissue cells with the current.

The treatment has been most successful. Rodent ulcers are treated with ions. A pad of lint soaked in a solution of zinc sulphate is placed on the ulcer. The zinc electrode, padded with lint soaked in the solution, is connected with the positive pole of an ordinary continuous battery and then applied over the ulcer. The current is applied for ten or fifteen minutes at a time.

CINEMA TOGRAPH THEATRES.
The financial possibilities of cinematograph theatres have dawned slowly on the British mind, long after they were extensively exploited in the United States and on the Continent, but provincial theatres are now beginning to feel the effects of their competition seriously. There are 1,000 of these shows in the United Kingdom already and the number is increasing monthly. The price of admission ranges from a penny to a shilling.

IN SOCIETY.
Newmarket absorbed society all the week. It is the King's favorite race meeting, so he was present every day. Many smart Americans were also daily visitors. Ladies Granard, Alastair, Innes and Essex and Mesdames G. L. West, J. Leslie, L. Harcourt and Chavon were some of those seen. Velvet coats and skirts were the prevailing mode at this meeting. The weather was more propitious for autumn fashions than at Longmeadow, where smart Parisiennes were obliged to lay aside the gowns that were specially designed for the races.

Lord Granard opened the Post Office Art Exhibition, where pictures painted by postmen and other post office employees are exhibited and prizes are awarded. Lady Granard presented the medals. Mrs. Adair is stopping in London until her departure for America at the end of the month.

F. T. Martin gave a semi-official theatrical lunch on Wednesday. Among the guests were Lord and Lady Craven and Miss G. A. West, Patrick Campbell and Marie Corelli and T. S. Beattie and C. Jones.

Mrs. H. J. Smith will return to her Grosvenor Square house next week. She will stay until she sails for America. The Duke and Duchess de Vise will join her after a visit to the Bradley Martins. The Duchesse de Chaulnes, accompanied by her mother, will sail for America shortly.

General surprise is felt in suffragette circles here at Mrs. Mackay's attitude in connection with Mrs. Pankhurst's visit to America, as there was a strong rumor that Mrs. Pankhurst's expenses were to be paid by Mrs. Oliver Belmont.

Mrs. M. Rothschild and Miss Ella Cook of New York are staying at the Savoy Hotel.

Osceola Lewisohn and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Skarratt have left the Savoy for their country seat at Winkfield.

Cortlandt Bishop Returning With Trophies Won by Curtiss and Wright.
SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
PARIS, Oct. 16.—Cortlandt F. Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, sailed for New York to-day on board the French liner La Provence. He took with him the international trophy won by Glenn Curtiss at Reims and also the Michelin cup won by Wilbur Wright in France.

He did not, however, take the international cup for spherical balloons, which was won by Edgar W. Mix at Zurich, as the time limit for filing objections to awarding the cup to Mix does not expire until to-morrow. The Swiss Aero Club gives its official award on Tuesday next.

The flight lasted eight minutes. The balloon went round the course several times and then landed easily. The Emperor congratulated the Remers on the successful trial of their dirigible.

CENSOR BANS LLOYD-GEORGE

BRITISH MINISTER SANTI-DUKE
SPEECH SCARES RUSSIA.

Held to Be Subversive of Existing Institutions—Czar's Stopping of the Duma Opening Omens for Reactionaries—Black Days Ahead for Finland.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The censor has taken an unusual step in suppressing the telegraphic reports of the speech made at Newcastle, England, by Mr. Lloyd-George, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the ground that its sentiments were subversive of existing institutions. Speeches made in the British budget campaign were previously reported telegraphically at fair length in view of the interest in the movement to introduce British capital into Russia. But Lloyd-George's declaration that it was time the laboring masses shook off the tyranny of dukes and ground landlords sounded too much like the Russian revolutionary propaganda of three years ago to suit the censor.

The Czar will be absent from Russia at the opening session of the third Duma. This is his own arrangement. It supports other manifestations of imperial resistance toward the ultra-conservatives, who have been looking to his personal continuance of the campaign against the Duma. Their candidates in the recent miniature national elections, comprising St. Petersburg, Moscow and Odessa, polled less than 10 per cent. of the total vote although they officially described themselves as Monarchists. This marks the final failure of the reactionary obstructionists and their friends at court prefer now to divert the Czar's attention from the domestic situation to the question of his international prestige.

One of the first resolutions of the Duma will be asked to take is the extension of Russia's military administration to Finland, bringing its nearest province, Viborg, under direct control of St. Petersburg. The leading right wing critics of the capital are seeking to provoke the Finns to armed resistance.

The Novoe Russkoe's political diarist, Mentchikov, draws a parallel between the attitude of the Finns and that of the Transvaal before the Boer war. He maintains that the Finns have an enormous stock of arms and that the adult male population is organized into commandos which can maintain a guerrilla struggle for years.

FOR KENTUCKY'S CAPITOL.
Art Lunettes Completed by Gilbert White in Paris Are Greatly Admired.
SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
PARIS, Oct. 16.—Gilbert White, the New York artist, has completed the decorations for the State Capitol at Frankfort, Ky. They consist of two lunettes, which measure 11 by 22 feet.

They represent the exploration of Kentucky by Daniel Boone and its purchase from the Cherokee Indians by the Transylvania Company. Mr. White's work has been highly admired by the critics here as being good examples of mural art.

The lunettes will be shipped to America immediately.

ETRUSCAN SECRET SOLVED.

Italian Chemist Makes Pottery Identical With the Ancient Mosaic.
SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
ROME, Oct. 16.—Vincenzo Floriani, a chemist of Corneto Tarquinia, has rediscovered the process used in the manufacture of ancient Etruscan vases after extensive researches.

He found the old clay pits used by the Etruscan potters and made a mixture of clay ruddle, securing the color and lightness of the old ware. Then experiments were made in baking. A composition of black varnish pigments was used for painting and was entirely successful. Experts consider his work identical, apart from its age, with the original specimens in the museum at Corneto Tarquinia.

CAPE COLONY LEADER DIES.

J. H. Hofmeyr Was a Strong Advocate of Imperial Customs Federation.
SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Hon. J. H. Hofmeyr, a member of the Executive Council of Cape Colony, died here to-day. He was attending the colonial conference at Cape Colony's delegate.

Mr. Hofmeyr was born on July 4, 1845, and was educated at the South African College, Cape Town. He has been editor at Cape Town of the Volkskrant, the Zuid Afrikaans and the Zuid Afrikaans Tydschrift. He represented Cape Colony at the London conference with Sir Thomas Upton and Sir Charles Mills and he proposed the scheme of an imperial customs federation. He was a member of the South African Customs Union conference in 1899 and 1900 and negotiated the Swaziland convention with the Transvaal in 1900. He was deputed by the Cape Government to Bloemfontein and Pretoria in July, 1900, in order to obtain a franchise and other concessions to prevent hostilities between the South African republics and England.

GERMAN-AMERICAN PERSONALS.

Orville Wright Starts Homeward—Hitter Victory—Diplomat and Professors.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Orville Wright and his sister Katherine arrived at Dresden to-day. They will go to Paris later and will sail for home at the end of November. Wright's pupil, Capt. Engelhardt, is now able to teach users of the Wright aeroplane. Before going home Wright will make some flights at Shell Beach, England, where two machines are awaiting him.

Berliners were so disappointed by the defeat of the German champion, Rohl, by the American Walthour, in the 100 meter bicycle race called the Grand Prize of Germany that not even one of the 20,000 spectators was able to utter the faintest cheer for the American.

A fine portrait of Prof. Felix Adler is on exhibition in an art gallery at Hamburg prior to being sent to the United States. The artist is Reinhold Tepsins of Berlin. The subject is seated and leaning forward slightly.

Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, has arrived here. He will have an audience of the Kaiser to-morrow and will leave on Monday for Paris to rejoin his wife. He will sail for New York on Wednesday on the steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Roosevelt Professor B. I. Wheeler and Exchange Professor G. W. Moore of Harvard have arrived here. Their presentation to the university authorities was fixed for Friday, when Dr. Erich Schmidt was to have been installed as rector magnificus, but it had to be postponed owing to the sudden illness of Dr. Schmidt while he was reading his introductory address.

He identified himself with his predecessor's position and declared that while he did not oppose certain increases he was not willing to compromise the country's political interests in a certain direction.

For this reason he will not follow the Tariff Commission's proposals regarding increases of duty on oleaginous grains, cotton thread, silks and metallurgy.

PIE STRIKE VIOLENCE LESS.

Chief Employing Baker Looks for a Speedy End of the Trouble.

The strike of the pie bakers was comparatively quiet yesterday, but there were some attacks on the new drivers and a few arrests. The storm centre appears to be the vicinity of the New York Baking Company, at 82 Sullivan street. A crowd of strikers and strike sympathizers gathered in front of this place in the morning and attacked the non-union drivers as they came out. Some of the new men were dragged from the wagons and beaten. Three men were arrested, of whom one was discharged in court and two were fined $5 each, the union paying the fines.

Notwithstanding the efforts of the Bakers Employers to break the strike, deliveries were slow yesterday and some of the restaurant keepers were again without pie. Henry C. Paradies, president of the association, said that the situation would be normal to-morrow.

"We regard the strike as broken already," he said. "We could put more men out but they are afraid of being attacked. The police are coping with the situation and there were far fewer disturbances to-day than yesterday."

The strikers met at 142 Seventh street, where the strike leaders said that 3,000 union pies were sold by members of the union, who volunteered to act as drivers and salesmen for the 142 Seventh street. Miss Leonard O'Reilly of the Women's Trade Union League attended the meeting and assured the strikers of aid, comfort and consolation. She said the members of the league and their friends would pledge themselves never to touch pastry that was not union made.

BERNIER WANTS U. S. WHALERS TO PAY CANADA TRIBUTE.

Captain of the Arctic Exacted a Check for $50 From Harry Whitney for Fishing License—May Go to the Pole on Announcing Bee, Says Premier Laurier.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the close of the Canadian Club banquet to-day, which Capt. Bernier, commander of the Arctic, addressed, made an intimation which practically means that if Bernier is willing he can make a dash for the north pole next year on behalf of the Dominion Government.

Capt. Bernier commented on seeing American fishing in northern waters which he contended belonged to Canada. He objected to this and advised the Government to "impose a close season."

Bernier recalled meeting Harry Whitney and the crew of the Jeanie. He protested, he said, at their illegal hunting on Canadian territory. He then got a fifty dollar check to pay for the fishing fee from Whitney.

The captain said he had claimed for Canada the whole Arctic archipelago. He said he had advanced northward to claim it to prevent possible future trouble. At this stage he switched off to the Alaska boundary issue and intimated that "he would only have liked to see the Arctic there before that trouble occurred."

The captain referred to being commissioned by the Government to leave some stores at a northern point for Dr. Frederick Cook. "I am glad the Government did that," said the captain. "Many times in the past Americans have helped British explorers and I am glad we were able to return the favor. I am proud that the American people have recognized what we did for them." [Applause.]

Capt. Bernier then said he was opposed to letting American whalers with head waters, especially unless they paid for so doing. He intimated that if he had been at the pole he would have left some record with no other instructions than to guard what Canada possesses in the northern seas. He shall not be fettered and may go as far as the pole or beyond it.

Capt. Bernier was asked after the luncheon if he would make an attempt to get to the north pole next spring. He replied, "I am at present watching what Amundsen and others are doing and cannot at present say whether I shall make an effort next spring or not."

MRS. ARNDT'S $1000 CLAIM.

Demand That Sum for Telling About Body in the Morgue.

ELIZABETH N. J., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Joseph Arndt of this city wants $1,000 for having identified the body of a man who died in the Glen Island Hotel in New York city, where he had registered under the name of K. Miller. The man was really Philip John of Cranford, who disappeared on August 31 last. John's family offered a reward of $1,000 for information as to his whereabouts after all efforts to find him had failed.

In the meantime Mrs. Arndt and her husband went to New York to look for a relative and they paid a visit to the morgue. When the officers and the coroner appeared Mrs. Arndt remembered that she had seen a body in the morgue that she believed was that of John. She told the John family about it and his relatives went to New York and identified the clothes that had been worn by the dead man, the body having been buried in potter's field.

Mrs. Arndt alleges that when she told the John family about the body in the morgue they said that if she was right in her suspicion she would receive the reward. A few days later a member of the John family left an envelope containing $100 at Mrs. Arndt's home. Now she demands $1,000 more and says that if it is not forthcoming she will bring suit against the John family.

Frank John, son of the dead man, says that Mrs. Arndt when she brought the information about his father said that she did not want any reward and even refused to give her name. The family, he says, had to find out who she was before the $100 could be sent to her. He says that he does not propose to pay her another dollar.

Casler, 52 years old, a native of Brooklyn but for many years a leading business man in Little Falls, was struck by a West Shore train at a crossing in that city to-day and instantly killed. He was in a carriage at the time and drove from behind a west-bound freight train directly into the path of an eastbound passenger train.

ARRESTED FOR WIFE'S DEATH.

Charles Ruppert, Jr., of Chicago, and a Negro Woman Held on Homicide Charges.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Warrants charging Charles Ruppert, Jr., the son of Charles Ruppert, the wealthy shoe manufacturer, and Mrs. Anna Schultz, a negro midwife, with the murder of Mrs. Ruppert were issued to-day by Judge Newcomer of the Desplaines street branch of the municipal court.

Mrs. Ruppert died at her home on last Thursday night following an operation. Henry Lowery, a negro porter employed in one of the downtown Ruppert stores, was arrested in connection with the woman's death, it being asserted that he had recommended the services of Mrs. Schultz to the young man.

Capt. Alcock told Municipal Judge Newcomer that Ruppert had admitted that he engaged the midwife after the latter's name and address had been supplied him by Lowery. He said the operation was performed at the midwife's office.

Mrs. Ruppert is declared by the police to have made an ante-mortem statement to relatives, and this is said to have prompted Lieut. Deanehy of the West Lake street station to order the arrest of Mrs. Schultz. Ruppert and Lowery were released this afternoon on bonds of $5,000 each, which were signed by the father of Ruppert. The Schultz woman failed to obtain bonds.
